

PETROGRAD IS FACING BATTLE SIBERIAN SITUATION PUZZLE

ALIEN REGISTRATION MAKES NEW CITIZENS

Registration is Direct Cause of 23 Men Taking Out Their First Papers at the Court House

Total Registration of Aliens in Brainerd Numbered 434, Many Nationalities are Represented

The alien registration in Brainerd showed a total enrollment of 434 and was a direct cause of 23 men taking out their first citizenship papers at the court house. Two took out their second papers.

Of the 23 taking first papers, they were listed as follows according to nationality: Norwegians, 5; Finns, 4; Swedes, 3; Greeks, 3; Germans, 2; Danes, 2; Canadians, 2; Poles, 1; Serbs, 1.

Judging from the rush of aliens to register the first few days of the registration, few foreigners are believed to have evaded the order of the Minnesota Public Safety Commission and run the risk of a penalty.

Although no specific penalty has been announced by the commission, some form of punishment for aliens who did not register will undoubtedly be provided.

Stimulated by the registration of all aliens in the city, applications for first citizenship papers flooded the offices of the clerk of the district court in the court house.

Of the aliens registering February 25, 26 and 27, numbering 434, no definite figures were given out as to the number of each nationality registering. As estimated the Finnish and Swedish people were about even in first place and the Canadians came next. Then followed Greeks, Danes, Serbs, Russians, French, Austrians, Poles, Hungarians and others in varying numbers.

It was noticed that of the French registering not a one owed allegiance to France, but all came from Canada and were British subjects.

The fact that many in Minnesota voted on first citizenship papers made them slack in completing their citizenship.

WAR FINANCE BILL DRAGS

Fights on Amendments Delays Its Passage.

Washington, March 2.—Slow progress is being made by the Senate in disposing of amendments to the administration bill for a war finance corporation, but leaders believed its passage is assured.

With virtually all senators agreed regarding necessity for the legislation to afford government financial assistance to war industries and control private security issues, an unexpected number of amendments proposed, including several from banking committee members, has delayed final action.

KILL 12 MEXICAN BANDITS

U. S. Troops Reply Effectively When Fired Upon.

Marfa, Tex., March 2.—Twelve Mexicans were killed and several were wounded when a band of 30 Mexicans fired on an American cavalry detachment in command of Captain Kramer Thomas.

The Mexicans opened fire while a parley between the leader of the bandits and Captain Thomas was in progress on the Mexican bank of the Rio Grande, near Sierra Alto, south of Sierra Blanca.

Anchor Line Ship Torpedoed.

New York, March 2.—The Anchor Line steamship Tiberia was sunk by a German submarine on February 27, according to information received here. The Tiberia was of 4,350 tons gross and was built in Glasgow in 1913.

(By United Press)

Berlin, March 2.—An official bulletin says "Attacking the American trenches in the St. Mihiel sector we took twelve prisoners and inflicted heavy casualties. The Germans captured Comet, in the Russian province of Mohileff, 150 miles north of Kieff. The Ukrainian and Saxon troops have liberated Kieff, and we stormed the enemy trenches west of the Meuse and south of Haucourt."

DR. M. L. BURTON

President of university says war work has only begun.

Thrift, loyalty and the art of giving are the three great things which citizens of America are learning since the country went into war, Dr. Marion L. Burton, president of the university, told 300 men and women at the closing session of the third annual Northwestern States Conference of Credit Men in St. Paul. "You haven't begun to act or do the things this country is going to call upon you to do before the war is over," he declared.

German Big Business Building for Future Backs the Government

With the French Armies in the field, March 2.—German big business is still backing the German government and the German military power in the policy of annexations and domination, and is already building for future war. No later than Dec. 1917 an association of German manufacturers of iron and steel steel addressed a vigorously confidential memorial to the German government demanding the annexation of the French iron basin of Briery and Longue on account of its extreme importance for German national economy and for the conduct of future wars.

Petrograd Stripping for Action as Germans Advance on the City

(By Joseph Shaplen, Staff Cor.)
(Copyright 1918 by United Press)

Petrograd, March 2.—Petrograd is stripping for action and the special commission is clearing out all useless bourgeoisie, excepting the able bodied trench diggers, and ousting the old and young invalids, the unwilling soldiers and war prisoners.

Arno Dosch Flourot, of the New York World, any myself are the only American correspondents remaining in the city. Most of the British newspaper men have gone, and railway exits from the city are closed. We are provided with sledges for a quick get away if necessary.

The soviet commissaires have announced that they will remain until the last moment and if the Germans occupy the city they will move to Moscow.

Petrograd is facing her battle of the Marne. The Germans are three hours from Luga, 100 miles southwest of Petrograd on the Riga-Petrograd road. The enemy is in fan form Pskoff being the stick, Dno and Aurlieff are the wings. Valk is the chief German base while Pskoff is the base of the advanced operations. The movements of the Germans toward Luga were reported during the night. However Lake Chudno is frozen over and the Germans may find no difficulty in crossing and dragging the heavy artillery and supplies with them.

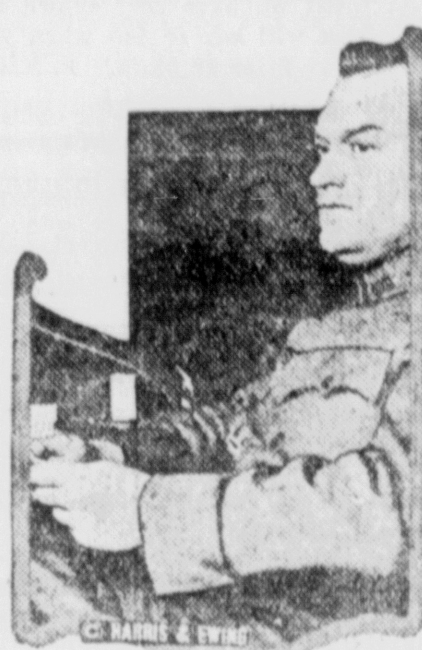

The Germans have fortified Pskoff and begun the movement towards Petrograd. The Moscow workmen and soldiers organizations have passed resolutions declaring the German peace terms as unacceptable and demanding a continuation of the fighting. The Germans refusing to cease hostilities until Monday, the proclamation here says and the proclamation also urges the most desperate resistance.

Extensive Raiding British West Front

London, March 2.—An official bulletin says that extensive raiding operations over practically the entire British western front last night were reported by Field Marshal Haig. At some points the Germans gained temporary footholds.

America's Decision Siberian Intervention Remains a Puzzle

BY CARL D. GROAT,
(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Washington, March 2.—America's decision on the Japan or the allied joint intervention in Siberia remains a deep international puzzle. One cabinet official said that the United States would not object to Japan going in in self defense but that the United States was not joining. The problem is intensely delicate. Some officials doubted if matters were sufficiently developed to require Japan's entrance and the Vladivostok supplies are not believed to be menaced. It is feared that if Japan gained a foothold in Siberia she would not relinquish it, while others feared the Russians would desert to fight with Germany against their former enemy.

SAMMIES WIN FIERCE BATTLE

Americans Suffer First Heavy Casualties of War When Foe Is Routed.

CAPTAIN AMONG KILLED

Failure When They are Beaten Back—Trenches Strewn With Enemy Dead.

With the American Army in France, March 2.—A strong German attack in the salient north of Toul has been repulsed by American troops. There were many American casualties, one of the killed being a captain who graduated from West Point in 1917.

The raid was a complete failure, three German prisoners remaining in American hands. The ground in front of the American trenches was strewn with German dead.

A driving wet snow was falling when the Germans opened fire on the American salient with every weapon at their command. Seventy-seven heavy shells and gas shells fell in a perfect whirlwind on the American trenches for half an hour. At the same time other enemy shells in great numbers were dropping on the American battery positions.

Much Poisonous Gas.

The Germans, evidently thinking that the Americans in this section, having had one taste of gas a few days ago, would fear it now, let loose great quantities of poisonous gas, but the men put on their masks and only a few were affected by it. So intense was the fire that the woods back of the salient were shot to pieces.

At 6 o'clock the barrage fire lifted on the trenches to the right of the salient and Germans numbering 240 came sweeping forward under the protection of their fire. They came forward apparently intending to make a big haul, and jumped into what was left of the trenches, but there, instead of the easy time anticipated, found the Americans all ready for battle. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting began.

American Captain Killed.
One American captain rallied men with rifles and machine guns and went through the American wire entanglements into No Man's Land and here waited for the enemy, whom he expected to be driven out by his comrades in the trenches.

He was right for soon groups of the enemy started back through the wire entanglements. The Americans poured in a deadly fire, but unfortunately the captain was killed during the fight. He is the first member of the 1917 class at West Point to be killed.

Dead Germans in Trenches.
When the enemy had been driven back out of the positions the bodies of 10 German soldiers were found in the American trenches. Two German officers were entangled in the wire and many bodies were in sight. Eight were visible through the snow-storm at one point.

They managed, however, to drop incendiary bombs in two dugouts which were destroyed by fire, but no Americans were in them. If the Germans captured any prisoners, which

In addition 1,300,000 messages printed in German went through the northern lines of the German army. About 200,000 were successfully worked through the southern and central fronts.

The committee also said German and Austrian prisoners in Russia were provided with copies of the address.

DISPATCH TOBACCO FUND

Readers Remember the Boys Fighting in the Trenches and Add to the Donations

The Daily Dispatch Tobacco fund continues to receive donations and the sum total is now well over $400.
Tobacco—lots of it—is wanted in France for our Yankee soldiers.

In Canada for the last three years our Canadian cousins have undertaken to keep their boys supplied with smokes. As a result, many clubs have been formed to send contributions weekly. Bowling clubs would chip a dime from each member of the losing side. Euchre and whist parties would send the winnings to the newspaper fund. Employes in stores, offices and factories would take up weekly collections on pay day. Surely there is as much patriotism among us Americans as our Canadian cousins—we know it is.

The boys need tobacco and none is going over except that which is bought in this country and shipped over. Come on, pitch in. There is nothing else that soothes and comforts the boys like a good smoke.

Every 25c buys a 50c kit of tobacco. Almost half a pound of pipe and cigarette makin's and forty made cigarettes. Each kit contains a stamped and addressed post card so that the donor may personally, so to speak, have the soldier know who is his well wisher on this side of the water.

COUNTY SHOULD SPEED UP

State Fire Marshal Says the Fire Losses in Crow Wing County the Year Exceed Those of Last

The fire loss in Crow Wing county last year was $106,430 from 28 fires.
This is an increase over the preceding year of $57,685 with 8 more fires, says Geo. H. Nettleton, chief Asst.
State Fire Marshal.

While it is probably true that many of these fires were of such nature that they occurred despite precautions taken, still nothing should be overlooked at this time to keep down this loss.

The state and federal governments are doing their utmost to conserve resources and fire losses are coming to be distinguished as a menace that every citizen should guard against especially during war times.

Removing Blight of Islam.

The blight of Islam which has sealed
Jerusalem for centuries, which has reduced Mesopotamia to a desert, Syria to desolation, promises to be lifted at

WOMAN'S REALM

SHARPS AND FLATS

(BY FIDD)

Ruth Best of Staples is a new cello pupil.

An orchestra of 10 pieces will be organized in the Whittier school next week. A benefit concert will soon be given.

A junior orchestra has been organized at the Franklin school of Crosby. A Junior Red Cross concert will be given March 22nd.

Alice Johnstone and Georgia Drexler, both made a hit at the recent concert on the range and could quite easily get a return booking.

The Staples Symphony, augmented by ten from Brainerd, go to Wadena March 15th. Sherwood Kirk, the famous baritone, will be one of the soloists.

Harry Seagred, who recently moved to Brainerd, will play with the Symphony orchestra. Mr. Seagred for two seasons was a member of the Fargo Symphony.

Morris Folsom will play bass viol with the orchestra. Mr. Folsom endeavors to run a first class music store and has the confidence of every member of the orchestra. A bass viol is badly needed.

Cheer up! At our next concert you will hear eight cellists with the Brainerd Symphony. It couldn't be done over night, but in the few months that has passed since we realized our predicament, we haven't been asleep on the job.

Another great home talent play has come and gone. Any event such as the play "America Awake," is not only a good thing to see, but also serves as a training school for our young people. We haven't met anyone who begrudged their time spent in staging the performance.

B. Konowski of Deerwood, an expert clarinetist, played at the recent Symphony concert and was really a sensation. His playing is wonderful and brings the orchestra still nearer to what it should be. Every member of the orchestra consider him a "find" and will hang on to him.

Mrs. Melba Cooke, former pianist at the Empress theatre, has a splendid position in a theatre at Moorhead. The orchestra is composed of violin, piano, saxophone and drums and plays most everything from ragtime to grand opera. Mrs. Cooke is capable and in her present field will never want for the best position obtainable.

When you have a patriotic entertainment and want a real orchestra, get the high school orchestra. Under the inspiring leadership of its director, Miss Seymour, the organization has passed the amateur stage completely and is as good or better than any like aggregation anywhere. Here is to the liveliest and most patriotic bunch in town.

All of the best musical talent of the Cuyuna range will join in a most wonderful production of H. M. S. Pinafore. The entire company will come to Brainerd for a one-night stand. They all look for a packed house and we are sure they will get it. The chorus will be composed of over 50 trained voices that would put to shame any traveling comic opera.

The concert at Crosby given by the Symphony, was a decided success. It was estimated that over $800 attended. The concert was made a success through the efforts of the entire teaching force of the public schools of the whole range. The school, the teachers, pupils and public on the range are wide awake and take an unusual interest in music.

COMING SUNDAY

"Bird of Paradise" and Its Hawaiian Scenery a Treat to Brainerd Theatre Goers

Richard Walton Tully's weird and resplendent pictorial "The Bird of Paradise," comes again to the Brainerd opera house Sunday evening, March 3 with nothing lost of its beauty and much gained by the reigning mania for Hawaiian eccentricities and lullabys, wails of the ukulele and tropical atmosphere.

Oliver Morosco and Mr. Tully may be regarded as pioneers who through "The Bird" infected our melody and dance and many other things theatrical with the symbolism and psychology of the South Sea Islanders.

Ben Giroux's sensational invention retains its mystery, his gorging volcano as terrifying as ever and the beauty of the Morosco production is unsullied by constant and prodigious occupations. In no sort of mammoth spectacle has more atmospheric prettiness been achieved. The waving plumes of heat and still, heavy palms, the barbaric distinction in absolute reproduction of thatched huts and savage caves, the big, startling storms and varying skies are so fascinatingly exact that when "the dawn comes up like thunder" it fairly hurls climate at the audience.

Mr. Tully's libretto to this gorgeous transportation of Honolulu with its plaintive running accompaniment of twittering strings and beating sticks, has the same refreshment to offer that it had seven years ago. It is a vivid, thrilling and picturesque portrayal of life in the languorous paradise of the Pacific.

It is safe to say that old and new lovers of this really delightful and exciting play will again test the capacity of the theatre during its local engagement. Miss Marion Hutchins will be seen in the role of "Luana" this season. She is supported by a superb cast.

At the Best Tonight

All and a great deal more than is promised in the new William Fox photoplay, "The Kingdom of Love," at the Best theatre tonight, is one of the most absorbing and interesting dramas that has even been presented here and the new star, Jewel Carmen, proved herself to be capable of the most brilliant acting and characterization.

This is a play which is not only entertaining, but which leaves a deep impression and a great deal to think about. It is a drama of human life in which a young woman withstands all the temptations that can beset her and keeps her heart and head clear in the midst of iniquity and sordidness of the Klondyke. However, that which can be accomplished through no personal temptation is brought about through the illness of the heroine's mother from whom she has long been separated. Her salvation comes through the willingness of a young minister to give up everything that was dear to him in order that he might protect her.

How this is worked out, the wonderfully thrilling scenes that take place during it, can only be appreciated by those who have seen this wonderful film.

About the personality of the new star, a great deal of interest is naturally centered and it is sufficient to say that both in the matter of beauty and ability she has proven all that was said for her. Miss Carmen is one of the most beautiful young actresses of the day and she gives an intelligent and brilliant performance in this play. Certainly, any one who cares for splendid moving pictures cannot afford to miss this charming play that has so much of strength and human emotion and such thrilling circumstances contained in it.

At the Best Monday

Broadway beauty choruses will have to look to their laurels now that Mabel Normand has surrounded herself with about a hundred thousand dollars worth of feminine loveliness. The surrounding occurs in "Dodging a Million," her new Goldwyn starring vehicle by Edgar Selwyn and A. M. Kennedy, in which she is to appear at the Best theatre Monday, March 4.

A series of scenes in the early part of the play occurs in a fashionable modiste shop where about twenty beautiful models are posing for costumers in the latest creations of the couturier's art. The band of models is led by six professionals from the studios of a fashionable Fifth avenue modiste; and they put all the others through their paces.

One could not easily imagine how many convolutions there are in the technique of being a model. One begins—that is, for models of this season—by being tall and slender. Point two is to be languid and haughty in demeanor. Point three is to be graceful in a skinny manner. Everybody's doing it this season. Probably the only criticism to be made of the models in "Dodging a Million" is that they are not skinny enough. They insist on being good looking and as though they eat not less than three meals a day.

SOME SPRING FASHION TIPS

Linen Blouses With High Collar Are Popular—Pumpkin Color Is Worth With Navy Short Jacket Suit.

A swagger linen blouse of white recently seen had a high collar, plaited frills and long bands of rose-colored linen, which were stitched all the way down the upper part of the sleeve. The effect was decidedly new and interesting, observes a fashion writer in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Very smart and attractive are three-piece or middie suits evolved in silk and cloth combinations, and these have very becoming lines for youthful figures.

Decidedly unique is this idea: Pumpkin yellow handkerchief linen is developed into a mannish, tucked front sleeveless blouse to wear with a navy suit whose jacket is short and boxlike in the latest fashion line.

Effective catstitching in heavy silk is seen for spring.

A lovely shade of amethyst suede draped and clasped with a silver buckle forms the belt on a white velours waistcoat made to go with a short jacket of navy tricotine suit. The result is most pleasing.

Many different colored piques are used by collars and cuffs or lingerie blouses for spring, and this same material forms many of the smart vests and waistcoats made from spring suits.

A delicate gray handkerchief linen is used for some of the most attractive handmade blouses that have arrived from Paris.

FASHIONS AND FADS

Suits have straight skirts. Topcoats are made of taffeta. The silhouette remains unchanged. The finest suits are the simplest ones.

Foulards are becoming very plentiful. Afternoon dresses are made of etamine.

Straight one-piece dresses are made of linen.

There is some evidence of a return of laces to favor.

Black-and-white checked materials are favored.

Pretty turbans are made of green leaves and rosebuds.

There is a return to voiles, both printed and plain.

There are some very pretty evening gowns all of chiffon.

Slipover blouses are thought very well of in some quarters.

Button-back blouses also find their place in many spring lines.

Hats are of the simplest shape, depending entirely on line.

Venice lace is slowly pushing itself into favor among laces.

All velvet gowns are made very simple and without trimming.

The length of the skirt should be cut with an eye to becomingness.

Of materials there are a great many silks, pongs and rajahs used.

Color News and Notes.

If you would be considered modish, subdue your favorite reds and greens, advises a fashion authority. Not to the point of fadedness, however; far from it! Simply soften them into bewilderingly beautiful shades. Soft gray-blue lavenders, ashes of roses, that old-time favorite, wistaria, and silver grays and lichen grays; of these are the color cards of fashion. If you desire a spice, add a dash of rosy orange or peacock blue, but the smartest costumes are usually of one tone, with the exception perhaps of the lining, which may be as gorgeous as you please.

Wood embroideries and stitchings are used with effect either in the same shade as the costume or in contrasting colors. The Chinese, Japanese and East Indian influence is plainly felt in the newest designs and colorings. Sometimes they are fairly riots of colors, almost breath-taking in their beauty.

Colors for Lingerie Blouses.

The colors that promise to be popular in lingerie blouses for spring and summer are coral, Pekin blue and tan. The last named shade is especially popular both in linen and in sheer fabrics, one of the daintiest blouses recently seen being in tan swiss dotted in white and finished with white linen collar and cuffs.

Good for the Whole Family

"Granny" Chamberlain "A good cough remedy is one that can be depended upon to cure coughs. Not one that cures some particular cough, but coughs in general. It must be a cough remedy that can be relied upon for all the different coughs that are so prevalent. While the causes of all coughs are primarily the same, yet the condition of the patient is what makes the difference in the nature of the cough itself. Coughs of healthy persons are easier to cure than the coughs of invalids. The powerful convulsive cough of a large man is harder to cure than the cough of a baby. If you get a remedy that will cure a large man's cough and yet not be too powerful for the baby, you have a good cough remedy."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is just this kind of remedy. It is good for any member of the family. It relieves coughs of all kinds. It is the product of much thought and study to produce an ideal cough remedy. It is composed of things which cure easily and soothingly without harming the most delicate tissues of the throat. It acts as easily and safely on the young as on the old, and is the ideal remedy for coughs, colds, croup, influenza, whooping cough and bronchitis.

Yours for Health —Granny Chamberlain

Minneapolis dealers have boosted ice prices and householders will be required to pay 57 cents per hundred as against 45 cents last year. Scarcity of help, increased cost of delivery and other advances are announced as the reason, and not a scarcity of the crop. Every line of business is affected by the war conditions of the country.

People who will not utilize their arable land for the production of food or allow any one else to till it will undoubtedly feel the authority of the Public Safety commission. If you have a vacant lot, plot or acreage it must be made to do its bit this year, willingly if possible but in any event it must be worked. Don't be a "slacker" in the garden business any more than any other business that will help win the war.

Dining car service on all north-western railroads is due to be abolished by Director McAdoo and in their place to establish restaurants in stations along the lines. This will bring back the memory of early railroading when everybody carried their breakfast, dinner or supper with them if they did not care to patronize the railroad eating houses.

A thousand acre war time garden will be worked this season by the convicts of the Minnesota state prison, potatoes, oats and hay being the big crop that will be taken care of by them.

JAPAN MAY ACT ALONE

Expected to Enter Siberia Without Allies' Help.

Not to Be Construed as Act of Hostility, to Russia, but to Lift German Yoke.

London, March 2.—The Allies have decided to ask the Japanese to take any steps necessary for the protection of the Allies in the Far East, according to the Daily Mail.

Stress is laid on the fact that the British and Japanese governments hold that Japan's intervention in the Russian affairs is not to be construed as an act of hostility to Russia or the Russian government. Its purpose is to safeguard menaced Allied interests and to protect stores and munitions at Vladivostok and to assist Russia to lighten and eventually lift the burden of the German yoke.

Washington Confirms Report.
Washington, March 2.—Indications now point to an agreement between the Allied powers and America to confide to Japan alone the task of taking such measures as may be necessary to combat German aggression and influence in Siberia and to protect the military stores at Vladivostok.

No final conclusion has been reached, however, and it was said in official quarters that conditions were changing so rapidly and so many new factors were entering into the problem that it would be unsafe to predict over night what the issue might be.

PLAN FOR LASTING PEACE IS FIRST

CONGRESSMEN CONSIDER IT IS MOST IMPORTANT OF THE PRESIDENT'S PROPOSALS.

STRONG GUARANTY DEMANDED

Representative Smith Justifies His Pride in Charlotte, Mich., His Home Town—House Members Have Fun With Congressional Record.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington.—While it is a long time ahead to the time when the peace negotiators will gather around a table, yet peace proposals are still made and peace conditions discussed. The 14 propositions which President Wilson laid down in his address of January 8 are the basis of discussion among men in congress, and the one that many consider most important of all is that which refers to disarmament and guaranteed peace of the world.

"There will be no stronger article in the terms of peace," said Congressman Thomas S. Butler of Pennsylvania, a man of Quaker descent, but who votes for the vigorous prosecution of the war, "than that which provides for permanent peace. It may be that a strong navy will still have to be maintained by those who guarantee peace, in order to police the world, but if the sentiment of the people of this country is to be felt it will certainly insist upon making the world peace guaranty as strong as possible. I believe the other peoples of the world are so weary of war that they will also want to write permanent peace in the strongest possible terms."

Congressman Smith of Michigan made a short speech in the house recently which exhibited the just pride he had in his home city of Charlotte, Mich. He stated that it was a city of 5,800 inhabitants, and that it had taken a very active part in supporting all of the various war activities, including the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A., and also had bought its share of Liberty bonds. But what he wanted particularly to mention was the fact that "Charlotte was the first city in the United States where every citizen—man, woman and child—purchased a War Savings stamp under the call for the sale of Thrift Stamps to support the government."

The statement aroused the interest of other members who asked questions about this city in Michigan, and Congressman Smith went on to explain that it was remarkable in its citizenry. It has only two colored families; there is only one Chinaman and only one Italian, and the rest are American citizens. He said that the Chinaman declared he would not buy a Thrift Stamp for 20 cents, and when asked why, said: "Me pay five dollars."

Several members of the house were having a very jovial time all to themselves a few days ago in discussing the failure to send out the Congressional Record save to those who actually need it in Washington. The discussion rambled along with various surmises as to whether the post office censor had suppressed the publication because of the vigorous speeches it contained and criticisms of the administration. They were all having considerable fun until Congressman Barnhart, chairman of the committee on printing, got the floor and stated that owing to the storms and freight congestion the particular quality of paper upon which the Record was printed failed to reach Washington, and therefore it had been necessary to curtail the circulation outside of Washington until this paper was received. In the course of his remarks Barnhart explained that the paper used for printing the Congressional Record was "tough but very light."

"It needs to be tough," interjected Congressman Hamilton of Michigan. And a little later Hamilton, who is something of a humorist, wanted to inquire if "the suspension of the Record might have a very beneficial effect on congress by curtailing debate," suggesting that the speakers would not get their remarks before the public.

"My friend from Michigan is frequently right, and I think he is in this case," was Barnhart's comment.

Surprise occurred in the senate when some man who has not had any particular reputation as a statesman does something that is rather unexpected. Two men recently gained reputations by reason of their far-reaching knowledge of a very intricate question. These senators were Robinson of Arkansas and Watson of Indiana. Both made speeches on the railroad bill which were highly commended by men who did not regard them as profound students of this question.

Although Watson has been in the public eye for a long time, he has been regarded as more of a politician than a statesman. Perhaps he was the "whip of the house" during a part of Speaker Cannon's regime. Watson was the parliamentary leader of the Taft forces in the celebrated Chicago convention of 1912 and ever since that time has taken a prominent part in politics. It took such a speech as he made on the railroad bill to establish him as a profound thinker and statesman.

MAY NOT ATTACK
AMERICAN SECTOR

TILSON EXPLAINS GERMANS WOULD MAKE BIG MISTAKE IN DOING THIS.

THEY WOULD BE IN A WEDGE

Naval Man Says Increasing Pay of Officers Would Be Better Than Providing Uniforms at Cost—Many Cannot Afford Equipment.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington.—Information has been received in Washington (possibly by the grapevine route) that when the big spring offensive begins upon the western battlefield in Europe the Germans will concentrate their attack on that sector defended by American troops. The reason for this, it is explained, is that if the Germans can make a success and crush the American army it will be very disheartening to the allies, cause trouble between the Americans on one side and the French and British on the other, and also have a moral effect in America adverse to continuing the war.

While this story may have had some foundation and may have been a part of the German plan, military experts point out that even if the Germans should make a success of the plan, they would establish themselves in a wedge and be subject to the severe bombardment of the allies on both sides of the wedge. Congressman Tilson of Connecticut, who is regarded as the best informed man in congress on military affairs, says that the Germans would make a greater mistake by pushing a wedge into the allied lines than did the British at Cambrai. He does not think it possible for either the Germans or the allies to break through the different lines and maintain wedge-shaped terrain without great loss; first, because of the severe bombardment to which the advanced position would be exposed on all sides; second, because of the difficulty in bringing up supplies over territory that had been torn up so badly as all territory is near the front lines.

A naval officer sat in the gallery the other day when the senate was discussing a bill which provided that officers of the army and navy could obtain their uniforms at cost from the government. This bill was put through by the energy of Senator Jones of Washington, who upon complaint investigated and found that most of the officers in the army were almost barred from service on account of the high cost of their uniforms and equipment. It is not generally understood by the people throughout the country that an officer must purchase all of his supplies, not only his uniform, but his fighting equipment and his tent equipment, everything in fact which is furnished to the enlisted man free by the government. It costs an officer something like $300 to get into the service and there are very many of them who cannot afford that sum.

Well, to return to the naval officer who was in the gallery while the discussion was going on. He was very much interested and when the bill finally passed he turned to a friend and remarked that, "They no doubt think they are doing a good deal for the officers, but the saving on uniforms will be a mighty small matter. It would be a much better thing for the officers if they would increase their pay."

And there was something in what this officer said, for the pay of the private soldier or sailor in this war has been more than doubled, but no one has yet felt it necessary to get an increase of pay for the officers.

"Those of the middle classes are most to be pitied, for they have too much pride to go to the soup kitchens and not enough money to buy food," is part of a statement made by the official Belgian information service in Washington, referring to the awful conditions existing in Belgium. It has been stated over and over again since the agitation began as far back as 1910 in regard to the high cost of living that a large middle class of salaried people were among the worst sufferers on account of high prices. That is true to a great extent now, for the people of this class cannot stand in the bread line or patronize the soup kitchens. They and the very poor who cannot reach the places where employment is guaranteed at good wages are suffering the pinch caused by "war prices."

Congressman Borland of Missouri, who has been making a fight to increase the working hours of the government clerks in Washington, and has not only antagonized the clerks but has aroused the opposition of organized labor throughout the country, evidently has a large mail every day. In a recent brief speech in the house he said:

"The Herostates undertook to acquire fame by burning down the temple of Diana at Ephesus, but he failed to acquire fame. That man was a piker. He ought to come to Washington and attempt to change the hours of government clerks to eight hours a day, and he'd acquire fame enough to last him for the rest of his life."

To Commandeur Platinum.
Washington, March 2.—Orders have been issued for the commandeering for war purposes of all crude and unwrought platinum in the hands of importers, jobbers and wholesalers. Increasing need for platinum in the manufacture of munitions, rendered this step imperative if the war program was not to receive a serious setback. Commandeering will be carried out through the War department. The world supply of the metal is comparatively small and production has decreased since war began.

War as a Beautifier.
A doctor told me the other day that the war is doing one good thing at least in teaching the nations how much better off they are with less food than they used to eat. He meant that they were more healthy, but there is another side to it. Much of the adipose tissue which has caused us middle-aged women to look older than we want to is the result of overeating. Eat what you need, exercise all you can, keep your mind awake and keep young.—Mother's Magazine.

EAT LESS MEAT
IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Royal Compliment.
Solomon J. Solomon, the London artist, has announced his intention of living in Palestine, now that England has won the country from the Turks.

Mr. Solomon is rich and famous now, but he was poor a few years ago, and admission to the Royal academy had not yet given him the right to add the coveted "R. A." to his name.

At an academy exhibition in those days Mr. Solomon's picture was so excellent that it cast all those about it in the shade.

It is said that the king, pausing before the masterpiece, declared:

"Exquisite! And yet Solomon, in all his glory, is not R. A'd like one of these!"

Twenty-four Brainerd Cars and Big Truck Make Trip—Red Cross Ladies
Served Luncheon

"America Awake," given by the Elks as a home talent Red Cross benefit, played two nights in Brainerd with great success and then scored a triumph at Crosby on Friday night where the armory was filled.

On the Crosby committee were Mayor Louis Bauer and M. F. Crosby and the latter said 450 tickets were sold at the door and innumerable tickets by volunteers who covered the range country. The Red Cross ladies served a luncheon for cast and choruses of the show.

"America Awake" pleased all not because it was a home talent play but because it was presented with the ability of professionals," said M. F. Crosby.

The Brainerd Chamber of Commerce bugle and drum corps accompanied the show and took part in the patriotic, blazing finale. Twenty-four Brainerd cars made the trip. Scores traveled on the train. A big motor truck carried additional scenery from Brainerd to Crosby. The roads were fine and the only mishaps recorded were two punctures. The truck lost a chorus girl's suit case and when search was made it was found on the roadside with contents stripped by some vandal.

The Elks show committee included Wm. V. Turcotte, chairman; Clifton A. Albright, John F. Woodhead, Herbert Peterson, Al Mraz, B. L. Lagerquist, Edw. Anderson, John H. Hurley, Clyde E. Parker, Fred L. Sanborn and Paul G. Clarkson.

Died at Local Hospital From Lung Trouble, Was Well Known Member of the Carpenters' Union

William Ritari, age 38 and single, died at 2:30 o'clock this morning at a local hospital from hemorrhage of the lungs. He had been ailing for some time, his decline dating from a serious siege of typhoid eight years ago.

He was born in Finland and came to Brainerd 16 years ago. Fifteen years he worked as a steel carman at the Northern Pacific railway shops and was a well known member of the carpenters' union. He belonged to the Finnish Lutheran church.

He leaves three brothers, Ernest, Nels and Arvid and one sister, Mrs. Joseph Bakkone. Other relatives are Mr. and Mrs. Mike Setula, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Milloch, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Setula.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock from the residence, 1123 Norwood street, and at 2 o'clock from the Finnish Lutheran church, Rev. Garhu officiating. The sympathy of the community is extended the bereaved family.

PATRIOTIC PUNCHES

(Issued by the Publicity Department, Commission of Public Safety, through the United Press.)

Herbert Hoover was certainly the best equipped American for the important task of food conservation. In Belgium he had "made good" under trying circumstances. He acquired exactly the knowledge and experience needed to solve the very serious problem of food supply which confronts this country in its relation to its Allies. He was willing to serve without salary. He had not the slightest interest in any business. He was moved only by patriotic desire to serve his country. He has the world-outlook of the food question that no other American has.

STEREOPTICON LECTURE

On Syria at the Presbyterian Church on This Sunday Evening

On Sunday evening at 7:45 in the Presbyterian church, there will be a stereopticon lecture on Syria. Syria is one of the Asiatic countries that has long been in the limelight as a victim of the Turks' ruthless persecutions of the Christians. The lecture, therefore, is timely and promises to be instructive as well as interesting.

This program is being put on under the auspices of "The Messenger class" of the Sunday school, a class of twenty boys of the early teens. No admission fee will be charged, but a silver offering will be taken, which will be used to buy war savings stamps, which, in turn, will be turned over to the Sunday school for the building fund.

Rev. W. J. Lowrie will deliver the lecture. The choir will render special music. Come and hear this splendid missionary program.

OBJECTS TO FIRE DEBRIS

Editor of the Dispatch:—Please inform a troubled subscriber why it is that after a fire we have to wait forever and ever before the dirt and litter is cleared from the sidewalks adjoining. If the officers whose duties are to enforce the ordinance, neglect to do so, I suggest that it would be a good idea to put a want advertisement in the Dispatch, which generally brings results.

But will the ability to communicate with the dead, if possible, be of real advantage to the living? A fair and frank discussion will be made of this all important subject. All faith seekers are welcome to attend. A number of the communications from the "other side" will be read.

ROLL OF HONOR

A. G. Simpson, at the National Camp in Washington state, has sent the Dispatch a souvenir of the Tacoma Tribune, some 50 pages, giving views of the cantonment, of Tacoma, its ocean traffic, etc.

Arthur W. Hagberg, Walter Neve and George W. Mantor have joined the engineers corps in the regular army, their applications having been secured by Corporal Raymond Lowery.

In a letter to Dr. A. F. Groves, dated January 30, Capt. A. A. Gierlet writes from France that he made the trip across safely. The voyage was uneventful except for several attacks of mental submarines. Land looked awfully good when sighted. It took 16 days to be transported across. The weather in France was the same as Crow Wing county had in May. Capt. Gierlet's company was making good progress and he liked his work. He asked to be remembered to all his Brainerd friends. It may be said that as local manager of the Northwestern, "Andy" was on speaking terms with the whole of Brainerd and that there is yet to be discovered a man, woman or child who did not know "Andy."

Brainerd Citizens Gladly Testify and Confidently Recommend Doan's

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Brainerd citizen:

Chas. E. Warren, contractor and builder, 903 S. Seventh St., says: "I have done some heavy lifting in the building trade as a carpenter and the straining work, I think, was the cause of my kidney trouble. When I got up in the morning I could hardly straighten. At times I had blinding dizzy spells and once I fell to the floor. As Doan's Kidney Pills had been an old standby in our home I started to use them and it didn't take them long to straighten me up." Price 60c at all dealers. BRAINERD MAN APPRECIATED

Address of Rev. Stacey at Little Falls
Receives Hearty Parise and Large Audience Attends

(Little Falls Transcript)
The talk by Rev. Stacey on the subject of "The Faith of Americanism," in the high school auditorium last night, was heard by a large audience. Rev. Stacey is a very eloquent speaker and his address was interesting from the start to the finish. Miss Smalley led the audience in several songs before the speech and also in the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" at the conclusion of the talk.

Rev. Stacey started his address by asking the people who thought they were patriotic to measure what they are doing for their country with what the boys in France are doing. When Hoover says "Save food" and Garfield says "Save coal," we at home should not object, as it is for the betterment of the boys in the first line trenches. He then went on to compare a horse and its rider with the American people and the soldiers in France. When jumping over a stile a horse must have a little urging by the rider so as to let him know that the rider's mind is on the jumping of the stile. So it is with the boys in France. They must be encouraged by the people at home and must know that the people's minds are with them when they go "over the top." Therefore, our minds must be constantly with the boys in France to help win this war.

The reason why the United States today is short of clothing and food for the soldiers is because the people have them, and not until the people begin to sacrifice will the boys be well supplied with these necessities. Germany today is not afraid of our army or navy but is afraid of the awakening of the spirit of the Americans. In Germany the leaders say that might is right but in America we say right is might. While they worship Napoleon we worship the Man of Nazareth. The speaker then went on to say: "Compare the German airplanes, killing old men and women, destroying Red Cross hospitals and hospital ships, and many other methods of brutality with the goodness and mercy of America. There should be no question as to the side the people should wish to win the war. If Germany wins this war we will be forced to pay tribute to her. They will occupy our streets and bayonet women and children as they have done in Belgium. All nations of the world are looking forward to what the United States will do in this war. And to win this war we must therefore stand ready to help the boys in the trenches in all ways possible."

FOR ARTISANS AND FARMERS

Military Service Call Authorized by Senate Measure.

Washington, March 2.—Under the head of emergency legislation the Senate has passed without debate, a resolution authorizing the President to call into immediate military service skilled experts in industry and agriculture.

The administration amendment to the draft law to bring in men as they reach the age of 21 years was brought up under the head of emergency legislation for immediate passage, but was put over that priority might be given the resolution calling into service skilled experts in industry and agriculture.

A Fight for Life

It has been fight or die for many of us in the past and the lucky persons are those who are now well because they heeded nature's warning signal in time to correct their trouble with that wonderful new discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called "An-uric." You should promptly heed these warnings, some of which are dizzy spells, backache, irregularity of the urine or the painful twinges of rheumatism, sciatica or lumbago. To delay may make possible the dangerous forms of kidney disease, such as stone in the bladder.

To overcome these distressing conditions take plenty of exercise in the open air, avoid a heavy meat diet, drink freely of water, and at each meal take Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets (double strength). You will, in a short time, find that you are one of the firm indorsers of Anuric.

St. Paul, Minn.—"For years I suffered from disordered kidneys. My back ached terribly, also my head.

I let it run on until just lately, when I read in the papers of Anuric, and having known of Dr. Pierce and of his other medicines, I decided to try out this Anuric. I have been greatly benefited by it, and certainly advise everyone suffering as I did to take the Anuric Tablets."—Mrs. F. E. MARSHALL, 1007 Gaultier Street.

Step into the drug store and ask for Anuric, or send Dr. V. M. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 10c for trial pkg. Anuric—many times more potent than lithia, eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar.

DATE SET FOR LIBERTY LOAN

Third Campaign to Open on Anniversary of This Country's Entry Into War.

AMOUNT NOT YET FIXED

Campaign for Flotation to Last Three or Four Weeks—Details of Third Loan Not Yet Arranged.

Washington, March 2.—The third Liberty loan will open April 6, the first anniversary of the United States' entry into the war. There will be a campaign of three or four weeks.

In announcing the date Secretary McAdoo said the amount of the loan, the interest rate, and other features, such as convertibility of bonds of previous issues, maturity and terms of payment, are yet to be determined, and that new regulations will be necessary before the plans can be completed.

The fact that the amount of the loan is dependent on further legislation indicates that it will be for more than $3,500,000,000, the remainder of authorized but unissued bonds and the fact that certificates of indebtedness now being sold in anticipation of the loan bear 4½ per cent affords some indication of the interest rate.

McAdoo Issues Statement.

In making the announcement, Secretary McAdoo said:

"I expect to ask the Congress at an early date to grant the necessary additional authority. Of course, the opening date of the campaign is somewhat dependent upon the new legislation, but it is hoped and believed that the matter can be considered and determined in ample time to begin the campaign on the date suggested.

"April 6 will forever be a consecrated day in American history and it seems peculiarly appropriate that the opening of the second year of our participation in this war for the honor and rights of America and the freedom of the world should be celebrated with a nation-wide drive for another Liberty loan," he continued.

Should Begin With Demonstration.

The campaign should begin with great demonstrations of patriotism in every city, town and hamlet in the country that will truly express the spirit of aroused America. On this date every American should pledge anew to his government the full measure of his resources and resolve to make every required sacrifice in the same fervent spirit that impels our gallant sons in the trenches in France and on the waters of the Atlantic to shed their blood in America's sacred cause.

"The campaign in all probability will last three or four weeks, and announcement of the opening date is made at this time in accordance with my promise to make public all matters connected with the loan as soon as determined and in order that ample time may be given every community to prepare for the event."

Water's Passage Through Wood.

Water passes through real wood when ascending a tree, largely through the last season's growth. With deciduous trees the great demand for water comes in the spring when the young leaves put forth. After that upward sap movement is much less.

The Son of the Wolf

He Would a Wooing Go to Win Him an Indian Bride

He stepped back, and another young man somewhat differently came forward, pushed on by his comrades. He towered a full head above them, his broad chest defiantly bared to the front. He swung tentatively from one foot to the other. Words halted upon his tongue, and he was ill at ease. His face was horrible to look upon, for it had at one time been half torn away by some terrible blow. At last he struck his breast with his clenched fist, drawing sound as from a drum, and his voice rumbled forth as the surf from an ocean cavern.

"I am the Bear—the Silver-Tip and the Son of the Silver-Tip! When my voice was yet as a girl's, I slew the lynx, the moose, and the caribou; when I whistled like the wolverines from under a cache, I crossed the Mountains of the South and slew three of the White Rivers; when it became as the roar of the Chinook, I met the bald-faced grizzly, but gave no trail."

At this he paused, his hand significantly sweeping across his hideous scars.

"I am not as the Fox. My tongue is frozen like the river. I cannot make great talk. My words are few. The Fox says great deeds are about this night. Good! Talk flows from his tongue like the freshets of the spring, but he is chary of deeds. This night shall I do battle with the Wolf. I shall slay him, and Zarinka shall sit by my fire. The Bear has spoken."

Though pandemonium raged about him, Scruff Mackenzie held his ground.

"Brothers! The White Man, whom ye have chosen to call the Wolf, came among you with fair words. He was not like the Inuit; he spoke not lies. He came as a friend, as one who would be a brother. But your men have had their say, and the time for soft words is past. First, I will tell you that the Shaman has an evil tongue and is a false prophet, that the messages he spoke are not those of the Fire-Bringer. His ears are locked to the voice of the raven, and out of his own head he weaves cunning fancies, and he has made fools of you. He has no power. When the dogs were killed and eaten, and your stomachs were heavy with untanned hide and strips of moosecans; when the old men died, and the old women died, and the babes at the dry dugs of the mothers died; when the land was dark, and ye perished as do the salmon in the fall; ay, when the famine was upon you, did the Shaman bring reward to your hunters? Did the Shaman put meat in your bellies? Again I say, the Shaman is without power. Thus! I spit upon his face!"

Though taken aback by the sacrilege, there was no uproar. Some of the women were even frightened, but among the men there was an uplifting, as though in preparation or anticipation of the miracle. All eyes were turned upon the two central figures. The priest realized the crucial moment, felt his power tottering, opened his mouth in denunciation, but fled backward before the truculent advance, upraised fist, and flashing eyes of Mackenzie. He sneered and resumed.

"Was I stricken dead? Did the lightning burn me? Did the stars fall from the sky and crush me? Pish! I have done with the dog. Now will I tell you of my people, who are the mightiest of all the peoples, who rule in all the lands. At first we hunt as I hunt; and at last, like the caribou-run, we sweep across all the land. Those whom we take into our lodges live; those who will not come die. Zarinka is a comely maiden, full and strong, fit to become the mother of wolves. Though I die, such shall she become; for my brothers are many, and they will follow the scent of my dogs. Listen to the Law of the Wolf: Whoso taketh the life of one Wolf, the forfeit shall ten of his people pay. In many lands the price been paid; in many lands shall it yet be paid.

"Now will I deal with the Fox and the Bear. It seems they have cast eyes upon the maiden. So? Behold, I have bought her! Thing-Tinneh leans upon the rifle; the goods of purchase are by his fire. Yet will I be fair to the young men. To the Fox, whose tongue is dry with my words, will I give of tobacco five long plugs. Thus will his mouth be wetted that he may make much noise in the council. But to the Bear, of whom I am well proud, will I give of blankets two; of flour, twenty cups; of tobacco, double that of the Fox; and if he fare with me over the Mountains of the East, then will I give him a rifle, mate to Thing-Tinneh's. If not? Good! The Wolf is weary of speech. Yet once again will he say the law: Whoso taketh the life of one Wolf, the forfeit shall ten of his people pay."

Mackenzie smiled as he stepped back to his old position, but at heart he was full of trouble. The night was yet dark. The girl came to his side, and he listened closely as she told of the Bear's battle-tricks with the knife.

The decision was for war. In a trice, scores of moosecans were widening the space of beaten snow by the fire. There was much chatter about the seeming defeat of the Shaman; some averred he had but withheld his power, while others conned past events and agreed with the Wolf. The Bear came to the center of the battle ground, a long naked hunting-knife of Russian make in his hand. The Fox called attention to Mackenzie's revolvers; so he stripped his belt, buckling it about Zarinka, into whose hands he also intrusted his rifle. She shook her head that she could not shoot—small chance had a woman to handle such precious things.

"Then, if danger come by my back, cry aloud, 'My husband!' No; thus, 'My husband!'"

He laughed as she repeated it, pinched her cheek and re-entered the circle. Not only in reach and stature had the Bear the advantage of him, but his blade was longer by a good two inches. Scruff Mackenzie had looked into the eyes of men before, and he knew it was a man who stood against him; yet he quickened to the glint of light on the steel, to the dominant pulse of his race.

Twice he pricked the Bear, getting away unscathed; but the third time caught, and to save himself, free hands closed on fighting hands, and they came together. Then did he realize the tremendous strength of his opponent. His muscles were knotted in painful lumps, and cords and tendons threatened to snap with the strain; yet nearer and nearer came the Russian steel. He tried to break away, but only weakened himself. The fur-clad circle closed in, certain of and anxious to see the final stroke. But with wrestler's trick, swinging partly to the side, he struck at his adversary with his head. Involuntarily the Bear leaned back, disturbing his center of gravity. Simultaneous with this, Mackenzie tripped properly and threw his whole weight forward, hurling him clear through the circle into the deep snow. The Bear floundered out and came back full tilt.

"Oh, my husband!" Zarinka's voice rang out, vibrant with danger. To the twang of a bow-string, Mackenzie swept low to the ground, and a bone-barbed arrow passed over him into the breast of the Bear, whose momentum carried him over his crouching foe. The next instant Mackenzie was up and about. The Bear lay motionless, but across the fire was the Shaman, drawing a second arrow.

Mackenzie's knife leaped short in the air. He caught the heavy blade by the point. There was a flash of light as it spanned the fire. Then the Shaman, the hilt alone appearing without his throat, swayed a moment and pitched forward into the glowing embers.

Click! click!—the Fox had possessed himself of Thing-Tinneh's rifle and was vainly trying to throw a shell into place. But he dropped it at the sound of Mackenzie's laughter.

"So the Fox has not learned the law of the plaything? He is yet a woman. Come! Bring it, that I may show thee!"

The Fox hesitated.

"Come, I say."

He slouched forward like a beaten cur.

"Thus, and thus; so the thing is done." A shell flew into place and the trigger was at cock as Mackenzie brought it to shoulder.

"The Fox has said great deeds were about this night, and he spoke true. There have been great deeds, yet least among them were those of the Fox. Is he still intent to take Zarinka to his lodge? Is he minded to tread the trail already broken by the Shaman and the Bear? No? Good!"

Mackenzie turned contemptuously and drew his knife from the priest's throat.

"Are any of the young men so minded? If so, the Wolf will take them by two and three till none are left. No? Good. Thing-Tinneh, I now give thee this rifle a second time. If in the days to come thou shouldst journey to the country of the Yukon, know thou that there shall always be a place and much food by the fire of the Wolf. The night is now passing into the day. I go, but I may come again. And for the last time, remember the Law of the Wolf!"

He was supernatural in his sight as he rejoined Zarinka. She took her place at the head of the team, and the dogs swung into motion. A few moments later they were swallowed up by the ghostly forest. Till now Mackenzie had waited; he stepped into his snowshoes to follow.

"Has the Wolf forgotten the five long plugs?"

Mackenzie turned upon the Fox angrily; then the humor of it struck him.

"I will give thee one short plug."

"As the Wolf sees fit," meekly responded the Fox, stretching out his hand.

FOE CONTINUES DRIVE

Knisers Hordes Reach Dnieper River As Austro-Hungarians Advance Into Ukraina According to Berlin War Office.

London, March 2.—Peace negotiations between Germany and Russia have been broken off by the Germans, in the opinion of Nikolai Lenine, the Russian premier, announcing receipt of an appeal from the Russian commissioners for a bodyguard to accompany them back to Petrograd.

Lenine's statement was received in wireless dispatches from Petrograd almost simultaneously with the Russian statement declaring that the German advance had been halted by Russian workmen who have taken the field against the invaders.

Berlin, March 2.—The war office announces that the German troops, continuing their advance in Russia, have reached the Dnieper river. Austro-Hungarian troops have begun to advance into Ukraina.

Have Left Petrograd. Washington, March 2.—The committee on public information has announced official advice from its representative in Petrograd that Ambassador D. R. Francis and his staff, the American consulate, the military mission and the Red Cross representatives all left Petrograd for Volodga by railroad on the night of Feb. 27.

Bolsheviki to Return. Although the American, British and French embassies have left Petrograd under the menace of the German advance, the bolshevik council is reported as intending to return to its headquarters in that city after having temporarily left the capital.

Jap Envoy Remains. Apparently the Japanese ambassador is still in Petrograd, having postponed his departure an agency dispatch states because of negotiations going on between him and the Russian government. Whether these reported negotiations have anything to do with the Japanese proposals for intervention in Siberia, now apparently a topic of the most earnest consideration in the Entente capitals, and in Washington, is not evident from the meager advices received.

Indicate Renewal of Drive. Meanwhile the current reports from Petrograd indicate a renewal of the German forward movement in Russia, although at a more measured pace. According to one account the Germans are reported in possession of Pskov and moving slowly towards Luga, midway between Pskov and Petrograd.

They are also said to be advancing in other sectors in northern Russia, notably north into the region northeast from Dvinsk in the general direction of the Petrograd-Moscow railway.

Invaders Move Forward. London, March 2.—Dispatches received by the Exchange Telegraph company filed in Petrograd indicate that the German advance into Russia has resumed.

A forward movement by the invaders of some 35 miles beyond Pskov, midway between Dvinsk and Vitebsk, is reported in those advices the Germans pushing on despite the fact that the railway has been blown up and the stores of provisions on their way destroyed.

DEFEAT FOR LA FOLLETTE

Censure Resolution Is Believed Certain to Pass.

Madison, March 2.—Even Senator La Follette's friends here admitted that the resolution censuring him is sure to pass the assembly by a vote of two to one.

Roll call showed 58 members present, seven more than a quorum, and indications were that many more would be in today.

The House met but the principal business consisted of patriotic singing after which it adjourned until this evening.

Lansing on Vacation.

Washington, March 2.—Secretary Lansing has left Washington for Augusta, Ga., to spend a week's vacation. He was accompanied by Mrs. Lansing and his personal secretary.

Americanize Foreigner, Say Educators. Atlantic City, N. J., March 2.—A nation-wide campaign for the Americanization of the immigrant will have a prominent place in the war program of the National Education association, according to an announcement made at the convention of the body here. Educators believe the work to be the most important scheduled for the coming year. According to statistics presented there are 33,000,000 persons of foreign origin in this country, 12,000,000 of alien birth.

Suffered Several Years. PERUNA MADE ME WELL

Its My Standby for a Cold.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reuther, 1002 11th St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes: "I endorse Peruna as a splendid medicine for catarrh and stomach trouble, from which I suffered several years. I took it for several months, found my health was restored and have felt splendidly ever since. I now take it when I contract a cold, and it soon rids the system of any catarrhal tendencies."

Those who object to liquid medicines can procure Peruna Tablets.

ACCUSE ARMY OFFICER

Charge of Bribe Taking Against Maj. Gen. Cruse.

Affidavit Showing Complicity Is Produced—Accused General Said to Have Confessed.

Chicago, March 2.—Accusations of accepting graft in awarding army contracts, in affidavits and warrants in the United States commissioner's office, is made against Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Cruse, who retired two months ago with the thanks of Congress.

According to these affidavits General Cruse admitted the charge.

Upon the complaints and affidavits filed before Commissioner Mason, warrants were issued for the arrest of Henry H. Lippert and his son, Ralph H. Lippert, manufacturers' agents, who, it is charged, paid thousands of dollars to General Cruse for his aid on war contracts.

General Produces Correspondence. Capt. Melvin B. Erickson of the army intelligence office, sought the warrants and filed the affidavit in which General Cruse is said to have confessed complicity.

The affidavit, in part, follows: "I called upon General Cruse in Washington and he produced correspondence between himself and Henry H. Lippert."

"General Cruse stated he had received one check for $200 for services during the month of February; two checks for $100 each for expenses, and one check for $1,000 for services rendered in a controversy arising between a depot quartermaster at St. Louis and Henry Lippert, regarding the acceptance of certain blankets by the depot quartermaster."

Federal officials raided the Lippert offices. Two thousand letters and documents were seized in the raid, and on the strength of evidence contained in these, Lippert was arrested.

Monument to Tuscania Dead.

Port Ellen, Scotland, March 2.—It is proposed to erect a monument in the center of the island of Islay, one of the inner Hebrides, to commemorate the soldier dead of the Tuscania. Probably the monument will take the form of a huge granite column, with names of the victims carved thereon, and the site will be a knoll facing the Atlantic ocean on a high elevation, from which can be seen on a clear day three different points where the Americans are buried. Natives first proposed the monument.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.
